Biography

One of the hot new talents on the Italian scene, the 20-year-old turned some heads riding as a stagiaire for Cervélo in the second half of the 2009 season. Already a proven factor on the highly competitive U23 circuit, Appollonio proved he has the mettle to mix with the top pros, completing both the Irish and British tours in his Cervélo debut. For 2010, Appollonio will look to put a complete racing season in his legs and gain as much experience as he can to continue on his upward trajectory.
